Googlegroups: As announced last issue, the NRC e-mail reflector via Googlegroups has now been closed down and we are participating in the IRCA group – which had a lot of overlapping participation to begin with. If you haven't signed up yet – it took me two tries to get it to work – come join us! Just send an e-mail to IRCA+subscribe@groups.io and reply to the automatic e-mail you'll receive.

FCC News: The FCC has initiated a proceeding to determine whether to revoke the license of WJBE-1040 (Powell, TN) because the station owner was convicted of felony income tax fraud in 2016.

Streaming Study: Cumulus and Westwood One recently released a survey (conducted by Nielsen) of listeners to AM/FM radio stations who stream online. According to the survey, streaming now represents 12% of the radio listening audience for persons aged 25-54, although the figure varies considerably by location – it's over 18% in the Philadelphia market but less than 4% in Las Vegas. Spoken-word stations (news/talk, sports, etc.) account for 19% of the total over-the-air audience but 36% of the streaming audience.

Of particular note for DXers: 89% of the streaming audience is in the same local market as the broadcast audience. For more information about the study, click here.

--- NOTES FROM CANADA ---

Jon Pearkins <jon@pearkins.com>

2022 celebrates the 100th anniversary of the first true broadcast licenses in Canada. Although neither EKKO nor Bryant reception stamps were yet being issued, I opted for these three, which are decent-looking Bryant stamps from those stations originally licensed with original call letters.

The month of May marks 100 years of Radio in the province of Alberta. Three radio stations with private commercial broadcasting licenses officially launched, two in Calgary and one in Edmonton. All three were operated by newspapers. Rather than Frequency, the dial position is shown as Metres, as were radios of the time and are shown below in the first column. That is how stations were first licensed in both Canada and the United States.

400 CQCA AB Calgary – Calgary Daily Herald – 10 watts (749 kHz). The official launch was at 8:30 p.m. on May 2, 1922, with an address by Calgary Board of Trade President, Frank Freeze. Testing began on the morning of April 28. The May 4 newspaper identifies the station as "C.H.C.Q," still on 400 metres. The CQCA call letters, initially used both on air and in the newspaper, belong to Portugal, not Canada. In August 1922, the station was replaced by CFAC with a new 2 kilo-Watt transmitter on 430 metres (697 kHz). The original 10-Watt transmitter was then moved to the new transmitter site and used as a backup. CFAC was the first private commercial license issued in Alberta, and the only one issued in Alberta in April 1922. The original licensee was George Melrose Bell but he never got the station on the air, focusing instead on his license for CKCK Regina and one or two others.

410 CHBC AB Calgary – Calgary Albertan – (731 kHz). Officially launched at 9:00 p.m. on May 18, 1922, with a speech by Calgary Mayor, S.H. Adams. Operated by W. W. Grant who built his own radio station, CFCN (now CKMX), later that same year. He first built a radio station for the federal government radio station in High River, Alberta, in 1919. Last mention of CHBC in the Calgary Albertan newspaper was on May 2, 1925, when CFCN and CHBC were sharing 440 meters.

450 CJCA AB Edmonton – Edmonton Journal (666 kHz). Official launch at 7:00 p.m. on May 1, 1922, with a few words of greeting from Edmonton Mayor D.M. Duggan to begin the five-hour broadcast. The announcer for the evening, and Chief Engineer, was G.R.A. "Dick" Rice, who would found his own station, CFRN, in 1934. CJCA's first test broadcasts were done on April 26, 1922, despite a critical, but not essential, piece of the transmitter not arriving until May 1.

In station news:

640 CFIQ ON Richmond Hill – Granted a call letter change from CFMJ, but still used "CFMJ Global News Toronto" as their Top-of-Hour ID on April 3 at Noon.

730 CHMJ BC Vancouver – Granted a call letter change from CKGO. No call letters were mentioned in 1300 ID on April 3.

1220 CFAJ ON St. Catharines – As of March 21st, after more than two years, they are no longer airing their Test Period announcements. However, their programming remains non-stop Oldies music with splitters saying simply "Classic 12-20." As of April 3, Canada's Spectrum Management System still shows them as On-Air Testing.

1350 CIRF ON Brampton – Was heard in West Michigan on March 19 at 0657 when they should have been on their night power of 40 Watts, as Brampton sunrise was not until 0657 on April 3.

Very strange DX conditions occurred on April 3, as well as a few other nights, with XEWA-540 burying CBK! KOFI-1180 was weak enough to clearly hear the Cubans. A guy in Sherwood Park (an Edmonton suburb) heard KOFI off the air less than a week ago, so I was happy to catch them that weak, having missed the off-air time. And even 500 Watt KCVR-1570 was all alone with no XERF for a little while. At other times, the Aurora has been close enough to pretty much shut down skywave reception.

The CRTC has approved the takeover by Rogers of Shaw, but Rogers is still waiting required approvals from Innovation, Science and Economic Development Canada, and the Competition Bureau. Corus is not part of the deal.

--- DX TESTS ---

990 WWKY KY Winchester – 4/10 0000 – DX test with Morse VVV and ID, busy tones, sweep tones, etc. At times peaking very strong. Similar pattern on 1150 kHz WMST, but independent audio (not simulcast). WNML Knoxville with CBS Sports dominant prior to the test, but not a significant problem once the test began. First time log. (TK-FL)

990 WWKY KY Winchester – 04/10 0001 – Underneath KFCD with a pause in Spanish music programming, heard fast morse code. Noted a lot better at 0005 with KFCD fading a little, heard fast morse code at equal signal strength. 0007 heard continuous tone with KFCD speaking. Sweep tones were noted at 0008 under male speaking on KFCD. Fair signal noted under KFCD. New, for Kentucky #4. (JN-TX)

990 WWKY KY Winchester – 4/10 0012 – On top of the channel. ID in CW: "VVV de WWKY" repeated, followed by continuous tone and then sweep tones. (SD-MN)

--- UNID ---

- 1380 unID ?? – 4/7 0655 – Tejano-ish Mexi-tunes, audio with a very bad buzz. Mostly lost at 0700 when WAOK was day power-up, but no Mexican anthem noted if even the right time. - 1480 unID ?? -4/7 0007-0008 – With The Beatles and ‘Here Comes The Sun’ under KWIZ. Audible, but gradually faded away as KWIZ dominated. It has got to be an oldies station. But who and where? (RA-Pomona CA)
- 1600 unID ?? - 3/22 0648 – Woman in what sounded like net feed of morning news or sports magazine, promo for something “weekday mornings from 7 to 10” and mention of Sports (something) Radio Network. WUCT? Not WKWF’s current format. Mixing with eventually dominating WAOS’s Spanish. (TK-FL)

--- TIS/HAR ---

- 1690 WQGC573 AL – [location list follows DXer credit – Ed.] – These calls generically used for all in the FCC dB. - 1570 WTRB TN Ripley – 3/23 0739 – Locally accented woman with news, a spot for something “. . . on Highway 51,” then mention of WTRB, a PSA for the Tennessee Wildlife Foundation. Lobo’s ‘Me and You and a Dog Named Boo’ and other pop-ish older sort of C&W. Fair at times, with no XERF present, oddly. Parallel station stream. First time log. (TK-FL)
- 1580 KGAL OR Lebanon – 4/18 0259:58 – Call letter ID with dominant signal, which is surprising given their Null in my direction. 0100-0200 hour: heard both 4/18 and 4/22, with syndicated “When Radio Was” Old Time Radio where breaks were current national ads. “Red Eye Radio” started at 0206. (JP-AB)
- 1580 WLIJ TN Shelbyville – 4/3 2120 – Country music oldie ‘Right or Wrong’ by Wanda Jackson followed by ID: “Playing the songs that make Country Music great since 1959, Pure Classic Country 98.7 and AM 1580, WLIJ Shelbyville, Tennessee.” (SD-MN)
- 1590 WHOT FL Palm River-Clair-Mel City – 4/1 0703 – ‘Could You Be Loved’ by Bob Marley and the Wailers. One “WHOT” ID, and still, a “WTPA” former ID in violation. Still feeding WZOP-LP and WZPP-LP Caribe English Miami MSA audio (and they, are still illegally airing blatant commercials). Truly amazing what continues to happen with this one. (TK-FL)
- 1590 WCGO IL Evanston – 4/13 0600 – Just caught: “. . . and 95.9 FM, Evanston-Chicago,” which doesn’t make it here much. Others on channel are more common. Very Poor. (JJR-MI)
- 1590 WNTS IN Beech Grove – 4/20 0700 – Very poor, though clear “Indianapolis” part of LegalID popped through. With others. (JJR-WI)
- 1660 WTOU MI Kalamazoo – 4/8 0728 – ‘Heaven Sent’ by Keyshia Cole and other Urban hits, parallel station stream. Under strong WCNZ’s Catholic talk. (TK-FL)
- 1680 WOKB FL Winter Garden – 4/6 0018 – Very good on peaks, with nice Haitian Kreyol gospel with the usual cheesy Casio-ish synthesizer beats they like. KRJO C&W mostly nulled. Parallel station stream. (TK-FL)
- 1680 WOKB FL Winter Garden – 4/20 0601 – Poor, but a very clear “W O K B” came through SS (WTTM?). With WPRR’s Open Carrier. (JJR-WI)
- 1690 CHTO ON Toronto – 4/9 0730 – “You’re listening to CHTO, AM 1690, Toronto” by woman. Poor – no WVON at all. (JJR-MI)

Unreported Domestic Stations

No stations were reported to DDxD for the first time this issue since at least Volume 67 (1999-2000). The closest we came was WYHL-1450, which was last reported (with the call letters WFFA) as a tentative logging by Karl Jeter in Volume 68 Issue 15 (Jan. 22, 2001).

We still have 238 rare target stations left on our list of full-service U.S. and Canadian stations (100 Watts or more) that have not been reported during this time. We'll run an updated full list this summer, but if you want a copy sooner just ask at NRCDXNews@gmail.com.

First, a follow-up. The following logging appeared in DDXD-E 89-11:

1390 WNIO OH Youngstown – 1/28 1636 – Sports talk, ads Kohls, Credit Card Max, and the First Federal Credit Union. Listeners were invited to call 330 ---- 1390. 330 is the AC for the Youngstown area. The on air host then played Johnny Paycheck's C&W ditty "Take this Job and Shove It" in memory of "Jerry" who was an on air host until he recently passed on. Jerry evidently ended his daily show with "Take this Job and Shove It," and his listeners loved it. (TF-NH)

Rumors were around after this logging was posted in DXN and on line that the now-deceased Jerry mentioned above was former NRC'er & NRC BoD member Jerry Starr, who did at one time work for WNIO. But it apparently references another WNIO program host named Jerry. Per Dick Truax: "Talked to Jerry last night, so reports of his demise are premature."

DX TESTS

990 WWKY KY Winchester – 4/10 0001 – Under CBW with DX Test, code IDs (.-. -. -.- .-.) and swoop tones. (MKB-ON)

+++ – 4/10 0000 – DX Test mixing with WTLN, WMNL, UNID singing and Cuba. Immediately heard code IDs at 0000. Also tones, sweep tones, phone off hook sounds and rising/bubble up tones. Test was scheduled to continue until 0200, but I felt I had enough to prove I heard the test. Report emailed to Les Rayburn. New station for me. (KK-VA)

+++ - 4/10 0029 – CPC test, poor under WNTP and an UnID station. Code "VVV" repeated 3 times then "DE WWKY" repeated several times. At 0030 sweep tone, 0031 ascending tones repeated then another sweep tone at 0034 and ring tone sound repeated several times. Recorded. New. (LB-NY)

+++ - 4/10 0058 – Under WDCX; DX test Morse code, 0101 more Morse code but at a lower pitch. (BC-NH)

1150 WMST KY Mount Sterling – 4/10 0057 – DX Test under partially nulled CKOC with swoop tones and code IDs (.-. -- ... -). Didn't think I would hear this one because of CKOC's monster near-local signal, but my trusty RF-2200 is up to the job! (MKB-ON)

+++ - 4/10 0000 – CPC test audible during most of the 2 hour schedule (0000-0200). Best signal during first hour. At 0003 off the hook tone, code "VVV" repeated 3 times then "DE" and "WMST" repeated multiple times. At 0054 "Boing" sweep tone cut through noise; Jingle ID at 0057. Faded out, then up with code IDs followed by ascending tones at 0059 and code IDs repeated; 0100 steady tone and "boing" tone cut through QRM from WDEL. Overtaken by CKOC by 0152, but code, ring tone and sweep tone still heard under that. Recorded. New. (LB-NY)

+++ - 4/10 0000 – Under WWDJ, over R.Bayamo; DX test announcement, “...designed to optimize our audio system,” and Morse code. (BC-NH)

UNID

1530 UnID -- – 4/7 1959 – Mixing with WCTR, WCKY and UNID Spanish talk. Station with religious singing, female “... WDLR 88.9 in Lake City... 89.7...” (KK-VA)

LOGGINGS

580 WHP PA Harrisburg – 4/9 0704 – Over CJCL-590 slop with PSA for Salvation Army Harrisburg into local news. Three-letter call and a state capital should count for some points in a DX contest. (MKB-ON)

590 WROW NY Albany – 4/1 2000 – Ad for Harrison Ford, mentioned “donate your car!” and phone number 1-800-724-6115, given. “590 AM, 100.5 FM WROW” ID into CBS News on the hour. (LW-NY)

760 WVNE MA Leicester – 4/19 1955* – Mixed with WCHP, “Joy in the Lord” program with Dr. Stephen Lawson Preaching on St. Paul’s Letter to the Philippians with the accompanying request for money, at 2000 an ID for “Life Changing Radio, AM 760 WVNE and 101.5FM Worcester, legal ID “WVNE, Leicester-Worcester” and “WVNE is signing off as required by FCC regulations and will be back tomorrow at 6:00 AM. You may continue to listen to WVNE at WVNE.net. This is WVNE 760 and 101.5 Leicester-Worcester and WILD-1090 in Boston.”

According to an old verie, WVNE operates at low power for its last hour of the day, and the NRC log gives WVNE 8600 watts during critical hours. (TF-NH)

WCHP NY Champlain – 4/19 2015* – With WVNE off for the night, preaching about the Book of Hebrews, the program is from Beth Ariel (sounds like a synagogue, but actually a Messianic church in Montreal). At 2015, man and woman alternating sentences: “WCHP, Champlain, NY is signing off the air. WCHP with studios and offices in Champlain, NY, is owned by WCHP, Incorporated. WCHP operates on a frequency of 760 as assigned by the Federal Communications Commission. Join us again tomorrow as we broadcast the great good news of Jesus Christ.” This was followed by two minutes of music which one would hear in an occupied display room at a funeral home, and then silence. (TF-NH)

790 WAEB PA Allentown – 4/4 1930 – Good-fair; ads, promo for app from “News Radio 790 WAEB”; Fox News, another station ID, Jesse Kelly Show. (JI-PA)

1070 WCSZ SC Sans Souci – 4/12 0440 – “La Jefa” in fairly well at times from 0400 on with continuous upbeat Latin music and very few breaks. “La Jefa” slogan ID at 0440. Some fading but pretty much the only discernible station on the frequency. Eventually discovered the // programming through TuneIn; not the station’s website link. (JW-PA)

1110 WGNZ OH Fairborn – 4/4 1859 – Fair; ToH station ID: “Good News Radio WGNZ Fairborn Dayton AM 1110 FM 104.3,” followed by SRN News. (JI-PA)

1150 WMST KY Mount Sterling – 4/7 1957 – Fair-poor; Robbie Dupree singing “Steal Away,” ToH station ID: [unintelligible] “FM and AM 1150 WMST Mount Sterling,” CBS News, weather, another station ID, “Unchained Melody.” Heard this station for the first time, then coincidentally the next day received the email announcing the DX Test. (JI-PA)

- WADK RI Newport – 4/7 1944 – In multi-station mix with “... and your WADK time right now is at 7 44... weather... in just a moment.” WADK must have been having problems as programming was from 12 hours earlier in the day (i.e. 7:44 AM). Mentions of “morning,” “later today,” sports this afternoon, etc when it was already night. New station for me. (KK-VA)
- 1550 WLOR AL Huntsville – 4/7 2028 – Rap music, atop with 10 minute cluster of noise, no ID but only rap station on 1550. Way over usual CBEF, evidently the station had not reduced its 50,000 watt signal to its more modest 44 watts night power, new for me. (TF-NH)
- WIGN TN Bristol – 4/7 2120 – Country gospel singing about Jesus, promo mentioning “for 47 years right here on WIGN,” mention of bluegrass music. Six mighty watts’ night power over 10,000 watt CBEF, which is directional toward New Hampshire. (TF-NH)
- 1590 WCSL NC Cherryville – 3/7 0040 – In with local weather, ad for James River Garden Equipment, into C&W music. (LW-NY)
- 1600 WUNR MA Brookline – 4/18 2155 – Spanish program, ToH ID for “WUNR Brookline-Boston,” several program notes in EE and into more ethnic programming. WUNR totally brokers its time in blocks. Its signal is rarely heard here, with WWRL being the usual station on 1600 here at night. WUNR’s 20,000 watt signal is directional east over the Atlantic Ocean from five towers (shared with other stations) in a Charles River swamp on the Needham-West Roxbury boundary next to the MBTA commuter rail Needham Line. (TF-NH)
- 1650 WTJZ VA Portsmouth – 4/17 1958 – Good-fair; piano music, ToH station ID: “Praise 1650 AM WTJZ Portsmouth 104.9 and 92.5 FM the Ultimate Gospel Experience,” then into some vocal music. (JI-PA)

INTERNATIONAL NEWS

MOLDOVA: To support Russia's attack to Ukraine, Grigoriopol Radio Centre started relaying Radio Rossii 24 h a day on 999 kHz on 5th April. That meant also stopping TWR Russian, Ukrainian and Belarussian 1730-1930 on 999 kHz. On 7th April those transmissions were on 621 kHz, but only for one day. Starting 18th April TWR Ukrainian is on 1377 kHz 1845-1945. TWR Russian has also been added 1800-1900 via Radio Eli, Estonia 1035 kHz. [Mauno Ritola, ARC mv-eko]

SPAIN: Since 3rd of April, Radio Inter, Madrid, on 918 kHz has switched off its MW transmitter. The company is facing serious financial issues and they have fired several workers and announced that they keep broadcasting on FM band only. [Jorge Garzón, MWC via ARC mv-eko]

From the DX News archives

All DX News editions from Volume 1 Issue 12 through Volume 87 are now available free to the public at the NRC web site: <http://nationalradioclub.org/DXNs/index.html>.

75 Years Ago – From the May 10, 1947 issue of DX News: Fred Van Voorhees published the first edition of a World-Wide Broadcast Log of MW stations around the world outside North America. (Check it out on the NRC web site ... go to the link above, select volume 14 issue 31).

50 Years Ago – From the May 13, 1972 issue of DX News: Father Jack Pezja published "A Beginner's Guide to the Ionosphere," an often-reprinted article. Page Taylor and Russ Edmunds published a guide to DXing rare African stations, and Gordon Nelson provided some annotations.

25 Years Ago – From the May 19, 1997 issue of DX News: With the new Congressional legislation coming into effect that requires the FCC to revoke the licenses of stations silent for more than one year, a large number of long-silent stations were reported as returning to the air, and a significant number also had their licenses cancelled and deleted.

10 Years Ago – From the May 7, 2011 issue of DX News: Ben Dangerfield reported the results of using two new broadband loops with a Quantum phaser and an R8A, with good reception in April – by which Ben meant "20 to 35 TA signals nearly every night, some with fair to good audio," and R. Globo on 1220 with his local WPHT-1210 phased.

As the '21-'22 DX season winds down, a shout out to Les Rayburn (and any others who may have been involved) in arranging for the DX Tests we had this season. As someone who, over the years, arranged for some 100 DX Tests on behalf of the NRC, I can attest to the difficulty in persuading someone at a radio station to get up in the middle of the night, drive down to the station, and run a DX Test, oftentimes in the bad weather we have in the winter. Back in the 70's and 80's, when I was able to arrange most of my DX Tests, every station was required to have a Chief Engineer, and a licensed engineer on site whenever the station was operating directional. Those were the people I contacted, and those were the ones that ran the Tests. Fortunately, many were hams that knew our hobby, or at least had an interest in how far their signal could be propagated. Over the years, the FCC relaxed its rules such that very few stations have technical people on site, and if they need engineering services, it is done by non-resident contact engineers. So, these days there really isn't the personnel or interest in running a DX Test that there used to be; thus, the ability to successfully persuade a radio station to conduct a DX Test is a real challenge. Thanks again to those responsible for the Tests, and to those who listen and send reception reports. I hope everyone have a safe, COVID-free, fun spring and summer. 73's

Born yesterday. I'm a very old man now, and though only a lowly Technician, I have learned some very important points of the radio art. Mainly the quality of the receiver is secondary to the quality and position of the antenna. That is, a very good antenna can enhance a mediocre receiver to remarkable heights. As a boy I had a transistor (transistors replaced glass tubes about 1960); took the back off of it, clipped some vise grips on the ferrite loop and hung it on the clothes line. Wow! 800 HCJB Ecuador! To be sure, analogue is a stiff. Nonetheless, I have propagation needs that must be met. I enjoy 1550 at sunset, waiting for WIGN to prevail with a religious message: "You need Christ, son." And I need a big fat box loop.

Jim Weber, Lancaster, PA

There are a few stations local to Lancaster that dominate their frequencies: WRKY 1490 "Rocky" being one of them. Although it's rated at 600 watts, their antenna is less than 5 miles from the house. On 15 April, I found that they were off the air which afforded me a DXing opportunity I don't think I ever had. Unfortunately, I came to find out that 1490 here is very much a jumble of stations; a lot like 1230, which I have had little luck sorting out with just 5 receptions to my credit. However, during this 5 day window, I was able to log 6 new stations most of which were fairly stingy with call sign IDs. Best catch was WSGB Sutton WV at about 250 miles. I checked in with "Rocky" to see what the issue was and its potential duration but did not get an answer. In any case, they were back up and running by the evening of April 20. Something different in this interesting hobby!

Linda Brodsky, Malverne, NY

Despite the relatively poor conditions this season, between September 2021 and now I've managed to add over 25 new stations to my logbook, not counting call changes and relogs. That includes 5 Floridians, 2 from Rhode Island, 1 from New Hampshire, 2 from S. Carolina, 2 from KY and several Canadians. I attribute most of those to participating in Loyd Van Horn's weekly MW Frequency Challenge, the terrific DX Tests arranged by the CPC Committee (love those sweep tones and CW IDs!) plus the ability to listen back to the many unattended overnight recordings I made with the tiny SONY digital recorder. Now, if someone could write a piece of software that listens to an audio recording and picks out the IDs! :-)

Here is Major League Baseball (MLB) flagship information for the 2022 season from my Internet searches.

Many of the team web sites do not list the names of the announcers, and frequently when they do, the biographies mention information such as "For the 17th season ...", which does not tell me if the bio page has been updated for the current season. Please send me announcer information (and corrections), as some of the web pages either did not list the announcer names or were definitely from last season (and maybe did not change for this season, but I have no way of knowing). And sometimes I cannot determine if an announcer is on radio only, TV only, or both.

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/List_of_current_Major_League_Baseball_broadcasters has broadcaster information, and that web site has been updated for the 2022 season (last modified on 23 April 2022, at 21:24 (UTC)). But some of the references date back to 2010.

In some cases I was not sure that the network list was for the 2022 season, as many lists were undated.

Note that if a station streams its broadcasts over the Internet, that the station cannot stream the baseball broadcasts because the Major League Baseball organization wants listeners to get a paid subscription via mlb.com.

I did not find the 2022 network list for the San Francisco Giants (the 2021 list is online). And I am not sure that I have all of the Spanish-language broadcasts listed.

Re: How Would Permanent DST Affect DXing?

The U.S. Senate passed a bill that would make the current time (Daylight Savings Time) permanent. This the time usually observed from March-November.

This was tried briefly in the United States in the 1970s, but I wasn't active in AM DX'ing back then. How might permanent DST affect DX'ing, especially in regards to sunrise/sunset listening?

From: Scott Fybush
Re: How Would Permanent DST Affect DXing?

It wouldn't, assuming you're willing to do your DXing an hour later by your local clock.

The ionosphere doesn't recognize DST, and neither does the FCC. Station authorizations are written in standard time year-round and would stay that way.

The only possible effect would be on pre-sunrise authority, which does recognize DST (insofar as PSRA starts at 6 AM local time). You might get an extra hour of PSRA operation in the winter.

From: Eric Floden
Re: How Would Permanent DST Affect DXing?

Maybe fewer automation malfunctions that would occur now with a time change action required? Thinking of pattern changes and such...

From: Les Rayburn, N1LF
Re: How Would Permanent DST Affect DXing?

Good points from Scott Fybush. But I am also thinking about the "human factors." My normal day begins around 7AM when I leave for work, and often DX during the commute. During the Winter months, this puts me in the heart of sunrise DX'ing. I commute home after 5PM, often as late as 6PM or even later. During the Winter, it's dark and I've missed any chance at sunset DX.

(Obviously, most of us record with SDRs but I still enjoy those new catches on the car radio from time to time.)

With permanent DST, my commute home would more likely fall in the middle of sunset DX'ing conditions. Big improvement for me.

The extra hour of PSRA is not something I had thought of.

DX Tests are limited from midnight until 6AM local time, regardless of DST. So for example, how would a DX Test in the Eastern Time Zone or Central Time Zone impact DX'ers in Europe or the West coast?

Oooo....excellent point, EricF. Those automation malfunctions provide a lot of opportunities for new loggings. Fewer of them would hurt the chances for putting new ones in the log for sure.

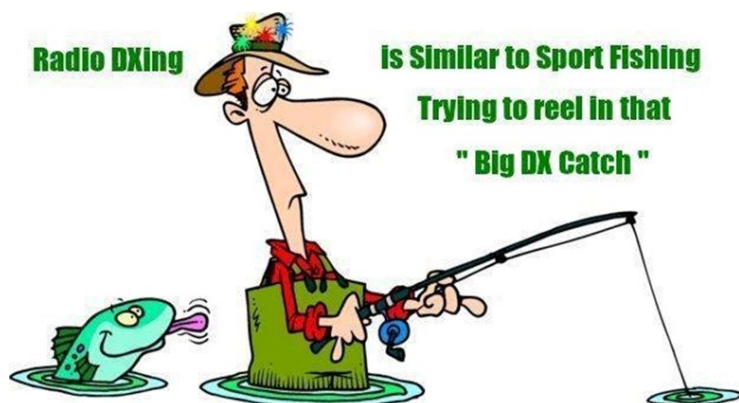

From: Scott Fybush
Re: How Would Permanent DST Affect DXing?

Most engineers I know keep the remote control set in standard time, so the switch to DST usually shouldn't affect their stations. But of course not everyone does...

Radio History Revisited

We Interrupt This Program – Part 1

The Ohio River Flood of 1937

Kenneth D. MacHarg

In our contemporary times with multiple all-news formatted radio stations as well as full-time news-oriented cable television channels such as CNN, FOX News, MSNBC and others, it's hard to imagine an era when radio newscasts were appointment listening and ran perhaps only five to ten times a day. In addition, those broadcasts generally were either five minutes long (on the hour) or maybe fifteen minutes long in what we now call drive time—early morning and late afternoon/evening time slots.

Those limited times were what you might call sacred. In my house, for example, there had to be absolute silence during the morning and especially the evening news broadcasts. There were several reasons for that. First, my memories of those times come from the immediate post-war years of the late 1940s and early 1950s. People still had concerns about the fragility of peace and the cost of recovering. Second, there was the new fear of the expansion of Russia and, to be truthful, a mistrust of Germany as it rose out of the war ruins. And third, within five years of the new, fragile peace, war broke out again, this time in Korea.

Those events and others over the 100+ years of radio broadcasting have challenged stations to prioritize news and information especially in a time of crisis.

In this and a subsequent Radio History Revisited article I will report on three especially important times of national or global crisis when radio jumped to the forefront with stellar coverage. Those times were the 1937 Ohio River flood, the assassination of President John F. Kennedy and the attacks of September 11, 2001. (While I vividly remember the latter two, I have also included the '37 flood because of the outstanding and, at that time, unusually unique coverage of that event by WHAS, and the attention paid to it historically during the years that we lived in Louisville).

The Ohio River flood of 1937 took place in late January and early February 1937. With damage stretching from Pittsburgh to Cairo, Illinois, 385 people died, one million people were left homeless and property losses reached $500 million ($8.723 billion when adjusted for inflation as of January 2019). Federal and state resources were strained to aid recovery as the disaster occurred during the depths of the Great Depression and a few years after the beginning of the Dust Bowl.

It is an event that continues to raise fears in the greater Louisville era even today when the Ohio starts inching up to flood stage. Old-timers who were still living when my wife and I lived in Louisville in the mid-1960s and later in the 70s and 80s could easily recount the fear and disruption of those terrible days. They would talk about people sitting on roofs, radio broadcasts which gave out calls directing rescue parties to locations where people were stranded, and the generosity of people away from the river and as far distant as Nashville and Indianapolis who offered housing, clothing, furniture and other goods to replace what was lost.

Radio played an important role in the dissemination of information and redevelopment of the city. A handful of powerhouse radio stations, including WLW Cincinnati and WHAS Louisville, quickly switched to non-stop news coverage, transmitting commercial-free for weeks.

The flood damage had doused most of the electricity in Louisville and rendered the police radio inoperable. With emergency responder's radio suddenly gone the only method of contact between emergency agencies, rescue crews, desperate refugees and the outside world was the 50,000 watt, clear channel outlet, WHAS. Station executives made the unprecedented decision to abandon all commercial programs and broadcast only emergency announcements for the duration. The number of distress messages reaching the station had mushroomed into the thousands, arriving by telephone, telegraph, ham radio and simple word of mouth. The messages were frantically typed and edited in a cold, oil-lamp-lit office, then rushed to announcers waiting before the microphone, and broadcast by flickering gaslight.

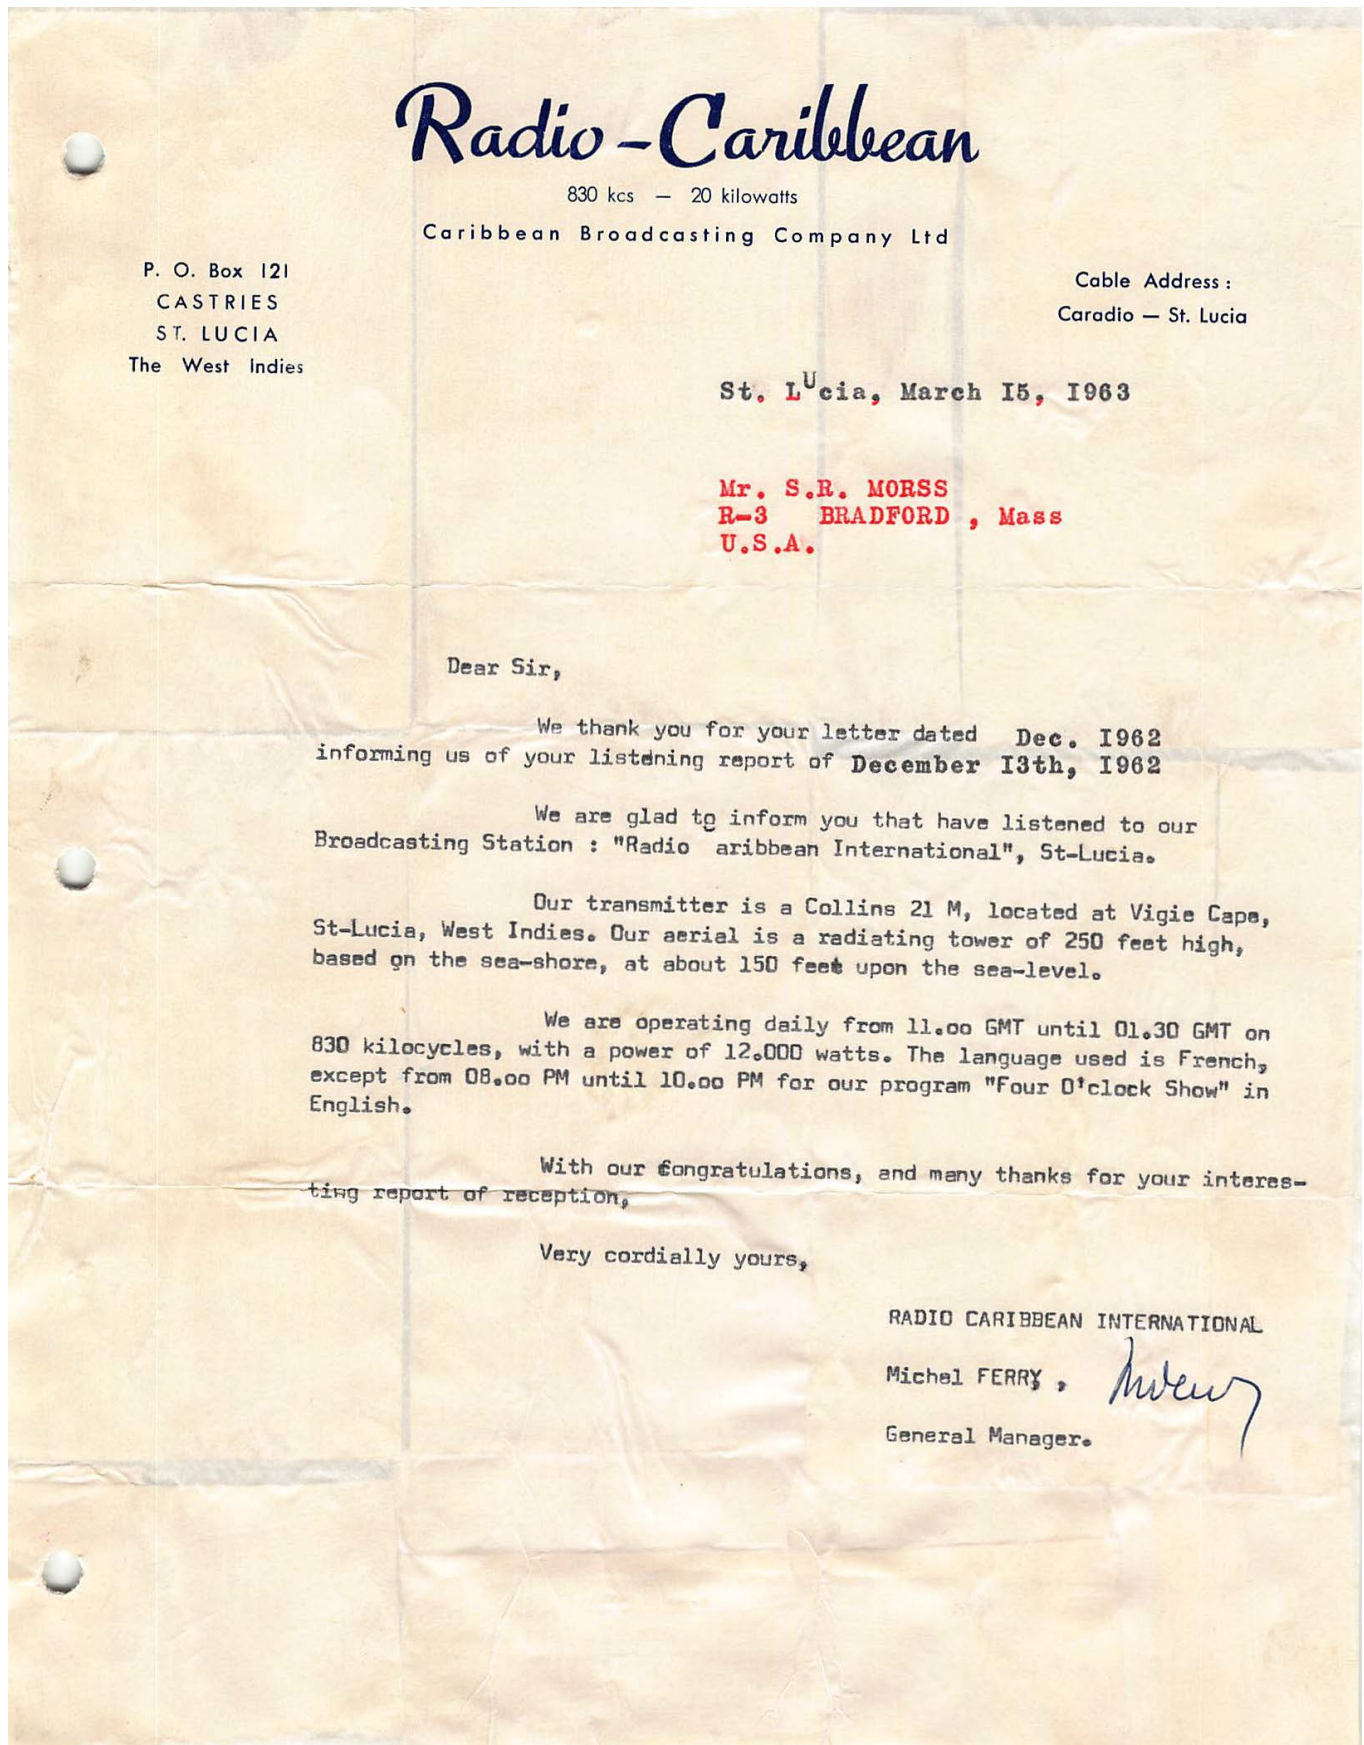

"Fire patrol boats operating south of Broadway are ordered immediately to Third and Breckinridge! All available boats are needed there at once!"..."Milk is needed for nine babies at missing persons bureau at 1010 South Third Street...power boat, please deliver...Urgent!..."Fifty refugees must be moved immediately by boat from 1023 West Madison Street! This is imperative!"

The emergency broadcasts continued, in an urgent manner for nearly 188 uninterrupted hours over WHAS alone. The station later estimated that 115,000 separate flood bulletins had been broadcast into remote areas via loudspeakers on trucks and even airplanes, and rebroadcast on other stations around the country and on the BBC in England.

When it became obvious that the river would cut the electric power to radio station WHAS—thus cutting the last radio voice in Louisville—the rival clear channel station in Nashville, WSM, picked up WHAS's broadcast via telephone and broadcast emergency flood reports for three days for the lower Ohio River. Other stations across the country, including WLW in Cincinnati, did much the same. Those broadcasts consisted mostly of messages being relayed to rescue crews, as many civil agencies had no other means of communication.
