July 2008 Mexican Summary

By John Callerman

(aka “The Krumudgeon” and/or “Qal R Man”)

I realize that some of us, in the northern reaches of the North American continent, will enjoy rarer reception from México than those who live along the Gulf and in the Southwest (except, of course, when auroral conditions abound), but to those of us for whom at least some Mexican stations are semi-locals, I hope we will keep track of changes and, for that matter, status quo, so we can try to do a better job of keeping this list up to date.

It is my hope, also, that there will be some travelers to México who can take radios and recorders, along with a copy of the list, and keep things up to date. James Niven has been in the Río Grande Valley during the past week and done some monitoring to help confirm what's happening. Rick Barton in Arizona has confirmed that XESOS, Agua Prieta, Sonora, is still on 670 ... and perhaps we can encourage Rick to be on the lookout for other changes in Sonora, Sinaloa, and other estados that are more easily heard in Arizona than elsewhere.

Hopefully, too, we can establish contact with interested radio hobbyists or professionals in México who can compare this list with what they hear and/or know about the radio scene there.

Some may think there's too much information here, but here's my justification.

For old slogans, there are other lists that are found on the internet that haven't been updated. If we were to find one of those lists, we might be inclined to think we've found new information if we did not have some reference to history. Plus there's the possibility that a station might revert back to an older slogan, as we have occasionally seen since I've been tracking stations.

For addresses and telephone numbers, while it's unlikely that many of us will be calling a station in México, and almost as unlikely that we'll be seeking QSLs (given the percentage of return in recent years), the addresses and telephone numbers are often given in detailed station ID announcements near the top and bottom of the hour and, with so many frequencies covered by noise from so many stations, it may be a fragment of an address or telephone number that will help us identify what we're hearing. Same thing is true for ad sales representatives or network operators.

Those of us who have been paying attention to Mexican medium wave stations have undoubtedly noticed that there have been very few new commercial radio stations coming on the air in the last decade. The aforementioned XESOS appeared to have been a new station, but its profile in MPM's quarterly publication shows it was established in 1942, giving credence to the belief by Tim Hall and Kevin Redding's that XESOS derived from the no-longer-listed XETM in Naco. The only other possibly new medium wave commercial station in this list is XEZHO-1410 in Zihuatenejo, Guerrero. XEZHO still has not shown up in MPM. There have been a handful of new government owned and operated stations put on the air in the 21st century, most of them broadcasting for native Indian peoples.

The transmitter site coordinates may have an even more esoteric value ... we DX'ers can use one of the available formulas to plug in our coordinates and those of the stations we hear to satisfy our curiosity about how far away they are from us; we can do the same for a target station to orient our phased antennas; or we can follow Scot Fybush's trail and travel to México and take pictures of towers! We can also plug the coordinates into a website, such as MapQuest, and build a collection of maps of transmitter sites and, even, satellite photos of the areas where these stations are located.

Of course, if you want a streamlined list, since this is a Word document, it shouldn't take too long (after you copy the main file so you won't completely erase information you may decide you want to keep later) to remove extraneous information and have a "streamlined" copy of the list! (This was applicable to the original but alas Adobe pdf is more universal for this distribution - wwh)

Perhaps a little background, for those among us who haven't been familiar, over the years, with my connection to broadcasting and the DX'ing hobby, might be of interest. When I started DX'ing 61 years ago in Corvallis, Oregon, I and three other seventh-grade classmates thought we had invented the hobby. We knew about White's Radio Log and the old Stevenson's Radio Log, but neither, in 1947, listed Mexican stations. I heard a sign-off announcement (remember sign/offers?) from XEG-1050, which then was a "Border Baby," broadcasting mail order ads in English, along with country music, to the U.S., and copied the name of the governmental agency that regulated broadcasting in México. (I'd heard XEG and a few other English-speaking Border Babies, XERF-1570 Villa Acuña back then (Del Río, Texas); XEAC-690 Tijuana; XERB-1090 Rosarito Beach, BC; XENT-1140 Nuevo Laredo; XELO-800 Juárez (Clint, Texas); XEMO-860, Tijuana; and misidentified the calls as XCG, XCRF, et cetera, so it was a surprise when the governmental agency at the time sent, in response to my request, a mimeographed list of Mexican broadcasters and their call letters began with "XE."

By 1950, I'd discovered ham radio (though I didn't pursue a license until 1984), SWBC DX through Ken Boord's International DX Column in the old Radio-Television News Magazine, and became a subscriber, at age 15, to Broadcasting Magazine, when the $7 annual subscription price included the Broadcasting Yearbook. I started collecting QSLs from shortwave broadcasters in 1950, but it didn't dawn on me that medium wave stations would QSL, until I joined the Newark News Radio Club in 1955 and the National Radio Club in 1956. (Earlier, I spent a couple of weekends at the typewriter in the offices of KRUL-1340, Corvallis, typing a complete list of US, Canadian and Mexican stations from BYB, an endeavor that eventually led to my typing the first NRC Log back in 1968, after Carroll Weyrich had given up typing his annual log.) (Which is why John's name has appeared in the credits of the AM Radio Log since I took it over in 1993-wwh)

My DX'ing hobby led to a news media career, starting as a sports stringer as a sophomore in high school for the local newspaper in Corvallis. I'd had a hankering to be a funny disk jockey, but to break into broadcasting in the late '40s or early '50s, a first class engineer's license was required to operate a studio console, and I was not technically electronically included, so I focused my career aspirations on print. (The multiple choice format for the ham radio license worked to my advantage many years later.) By 1955, the first class ticket was no longer required ... you just had to pass a simple test on the rules... and I got my first radio job at KCOV-1240 in Corvallis in the spring of that year. A year later, I volunteered for the draft, was assigned to a regimental PIO in Germany, and while I was in the Army, my parents moved to the Texas Panhandle, where I relocated in 1958, as news director/chief announcer for KPAN in Hereford (still today, 50 years later, a great local station under the same ownership). I part-timed at KIXZ-Amarillo and KTUE-Tulia while getting my degree at West Texas State, went briefly to work for the Social Security Administration before realizing I was not bureaucratic material, worked at another great local station, KPDN in Pampa, Texas, for four years; did news for KFJZ Fort Worth and KILT Houston back when Top 40 radio stations prided themselves on their news departments; and had a really great experience 1967-70 at tiny WCAS-740 in Cambridge, Mass., doing a news/local issues telephone talk format that was an artistic success but didn't make any money. DX'er Pete Taylor, who put on Kaiser Broadcasting's sister station, WJIB-FM, hired me to build the programming for WCAS, which covered suburbs Watertown, Cambridge, Arlington, Somerville and Belmont under, basically, the same principals I'd learned at KPAN and KPDN in the Panhandle. When WCAS switched from news/talk to folk music, I and my new bride (a schoolteacher with roots in Texas) looked for a small market station within a day's drive of our families in Texas (so we could get there easily, but not so easily we'd be expected every weekend.) We wound up in Mt. Vernon, Illinois, for 30 years, the first 11 at WMIX-940 as news director and sports play-by-play announcer, the last 19 as city editor, managing editor, then executive editor of the Mt. Vernon Register-News. (I'd anticipated the death of local radio news, I suppose you could say.) Upon retirement, we moved to my wife's home town, Krum, Texas, where I've become "The Krumudgeon," volunteering to write news and a weekly column for the local newspaper, purely ... as has been my putting together this Mexican station list ... as a hobby.

I believe, in case it isn't obvious, in sharing, and will continue to do so with those on this mailing list and others who express an interest.

Here is the color coding for this edition Briefly, I've slightly changed the focus and the color code, starting with the two primary sources in México, MPM and SCT. MPM, which profiles commercial stations only, is in black; SCT is in blue; underlined blue is URL links to stations; WRTH is in green; Cantú is in red. Notes gleaned by DX'ers, from station websites, my own observations, or historically outdated material is in violet; FCC data base is in sky blue. For powers, I have taken as primary source SCT list; MPM usually gives only day power, so when it coincides with SCT power, I add a black carat ^; on the rare occasions where the night power is given also, there's a black asterisk . WRTH agreement signified by green asterisk ; Cantú agreement (about 99 percent with SCT list) is signified by red asterisk . When power differs from SCT info, same color code. (I note that while Cantú uses SCT powers, WRTH appears to have looked at the FCC data base. The FCC data base adds new material and keeps old material; sometimes it's ahead of the curve, I've noted; others, it's way behind. Same can be said for SCT, but SCT does not seem to be the source for FCC notifications.) On locations, I have used primary mailing address as location; where Mexican source, mainly SCT, shows full name of city "Oaxaca de Juárez", I've used main name in black with addition to formalized full name in blue. Where location in SCT list, mainly the transmitter site, as more-or-less confirmed by checking FCC coordinates with MapQuest map website, I've put SCT site in parenthesis in blue behind MPM site. The larger percentage of stations with call and location in blue will be for non-commercial (university and government) stations; others will be where SCT places the station on a different frequency from MPM. In some cases, SCT is right; in others MPM is correct; in still others, both or behind reality's curve. I've used the violet notes to identify those differences. Schedule information by same code ... black is from MPM, green (either asterisk to show agreement or different time) is WRTH; violet is either website or DXer's observations.

But a promo heard for "Canal 14-50," a slogan that had been used by XESS-1450, on XESDD-920 led to speculation this station may still be operating on this frequency, too. It remained difficult to hear in Southern California, but Cantú continued to list "Central 1450" from 2004 to 2007, including a definitive logo. Compiler found a blogsite for radio personality Rosa Linda Valencia, who is cohost of a program, "Labios Rojos" Monday through Friday 0300-0400, on "Central 1450 AM Acir Musicadena Radio." Googling "Acir Musicadena Radio" brings up a newspaper story from July 2005 for a baseball team, Marineros de Ensenada, whose games were broadcast on "Radio Fiesta 1450 AM de Acir Musicadena Radio" and a website <http://www.radio921fm.com> for XHBCE-92.1, un eslabón de Acir Musicadena Radio, at Avenida Miramar 973 entre calle 9 y 10 zona centro, Ensenada T: 178-24-89 y 178-28-44. No mention, though, of XESS-1450, at this website. MPM-12/06 lists that address but different phone numbers for XHBCE, and shows representative as SOMER. SOMER website on 2/4/2007 was shown as a "página en construcción," with no information available. Radio, S.A. has no known website. Radio ACIR website lists neither XESS nor XHBCE Phone number 175-74-48 is listed as contact for "Labios Rojos" program, but compiler does not know if this is a station phone number. XESDD-920, XESS-1450, XESDD-1030 and XHBCE-92.1 were shut down by the Mexican government at 5:30 p.m. P.S.T. on February 15, 2007, according to website <http://www.elvigia.net> XESS-1450 no longer listed in SCT 12/17/07 or 03/15-08. In the opinion of Governor George Solomon Azar, the station "was not fulfilling the purpose for which it had been created" ² by technical problems, economic and programmatic and therefore took the decision to close it and transfer their equipment to the university, who caressed for a long time the idea of operating a radio culture. Despite criticism of an important sector of the population identified with more than a decade of doing radio and the cultural association of Radioproductores Cultural de la Frontera Sur-facilities, equipment and apparatus transmitter booths were delivered on loan to the university. XECUC will be deleted from next list.]

Compiler, in contact with family in car in Del Río on a weekday, asked to check both frequencies, and nothing was heard. On December 28, 2006, though, compiler in Del Río taped XERCG on 650, but nothing on 1600. Cantú-02/07 shows XERCG "La Ley" on 1600, while Radiorama website shows XEAE "Texano Hits" on 1600. Música Mexicana Macarena No. 32, Colonia Inguambo 60130 T: (452) 527-17-70 F: 527-10-40 (Radiorama) Streaming audio, linked via Radiorama website on 08/09/08 gives full ID for XEURM, “Fiesta Mexicana”, 750 kHz, diez mil watts, as shown by MPM-06/08. SCT 03/15/2008 now shows XEURM 10,000/1,000 on 750 and XEIP 1,000/1,000 on 1050. Cantú in 08/08 still show XEIP as “Fiesta Mexicana” on 750 (1,000/1,000) and XEURM as “Radio Poderosa” on 1050 (1,000/500), while the Radiorama website in 08/08 shows XEIP “La Poderosa” on 750 and XEURM “Fiesta Mexicana” on 1050, which actually contradicts what is heard when the two stations are monitored, as above. This is a great example of how difficult it is to get México right. DX'er Don Moore, listening in Guadalajara, Jalisco, in November 2001, heard XEURM call & “Fiesta Mexicana” slogan, diez mil watts on 750. It's taken nearly seven years for both MPM and SCT to be on the same page with these two sister stations, as they announce their calls, slogans and frequencies on the air, but compiler at last is confident we've got it right! N 19-23-21 W 102-00-43 10,000/49 on 750 (ex N 19-25-46 W 102-05-14 1,000/250 on 1050) (ex N 19-24-56 W 102-03-46 5,000/1,000 on 1440)

Explanation: (Neither slogan nor format found in MPM after 03/01) MPM-03/01: "Radio Éxitos" Música moderna en español WRTH-02-04: "Radio Ixtepec" Neither Cantú, SCT nor CIRT list XECA in either location. MPM's listing indicates it has not been kept up to date. Compiler guesses XECA moved from 1430 to 1030 and became XETEKa. (A website dedicated to the memory of Saúl Martínez, El Trovador del Recuerdo, <http://www.tonataati.org/musica/hmusical2.html> noted that in 1999, people learned of his death on XECA in Juchitán.) Compiler's guess is confirmed by an entry on March 3, 2006, from a disgruntled radio listener on "Foros de Ixtepec," a city operated list forum, who complained that XECA moved from Ixtepec to Juchitán and became XETEKa.
