(Part II — Continued from other side)

After lunch, around 1 o'clock, we're going to hear from Dave Marthouse, General Manager of WODI-1230, in Brookneal, Virginia. Dave is blind, and he not only manages the station, but is the bright and cheery morning voice on WODI.

He's going to tell us how a small station in a small market, not far from Lynchburg in the heart of Virginia, can survive by providing not only a needed service, but a livelihood for the people who keep it on the air. He'll tell us how he came to WODI — a great story.

A bit later in the afternoon, around 3 PM, we will hear once again from Ben Dangerfield who gave us such a fine recounting of early day radio at last year's convention in Batavia. This year, Ben will be telling about Philadelphia radio in the 30s and 40s from his first-hand experiences. Ben has been listening to the radio for, well, more years than you have!

Sunday evening promises to be a memorable highlight of the weekend with the Annual Banquet. The banquet speaker is David McCrork who has done something we all have wanted to do ever since being bitten by the radio bug. He built his own radio station and operates it over a limited distance (and on the Internet!) using what is called "Part 15" of the FCC Rules. If you limit your range sufficiently, the FCC won't bother you. We'll hear all about it from David after the banquet and before settling in for our last evening together this year.

And then, on Monday morning, we'll all find our way to our return transportation, resolved to get back together over Labor Day, 2006!

September 1-4, 2005

Kulpsville, PA 19443

Boy, are we glad to see you here! All year long, we read about each other's activities and accomplishments and it's so great to actually shake hands and have a chance to sit down and swap stories about radio, dx'ing and a hundred other things.

The official opening of this year's convention is scheduled for 9 o'clock this morning when the Reception Desk opens. Be sure to pick up a name badge, and be sure to wear it all weekend for two reasons: the first is so the other members will be able to call you by name and, second, so we show others in the hotel and around town that our club exists. Every year we have people stopping to ask what our club is all about.

Friday daytime is set aside for meeting people and for planning just how to spend the next couple of days. It's always neat to get outside if the weather cooperates and just tune around to actually hear stations many of us have dx'ed from afar or only read about in the log books.

Friday night is the kickoff event for the weekend. John Bowker will give a PowerPoint presentation with a few sounds of the stations near his home on the Florida Sun Coast. He's calling it "AM radio in Tampa Bay". Many of the stations, even those with 25,000 and 50,000 Watts are mostly a mystery to dx'ers because they all either beam their night signals south or east-west. The talk will start at 7 o'clock in the main meeting room and will be followed by a general question & answer time of interest to the audience...followed by a great chance for some dxing in a new community for most of us.

Saturday, September 3, 2005

After a good sleep last night (yes, of course I'm kidding) you will want to be up and at 'em by about 8 o'clock this morning so you can wolf down some breakfast and then get organized for an outstanding tour of two Philadelphia AM radio stations!

Rene Tetro, Chief Engineer of WFIL-560 and WNTP-990, has arranged a tour of those two broadcasting facilities. We'll be organizing car pools so it will be important to get a good count of how many are actually going to take part in this tour.

At about the same time, the ladies will be off on a trip specially designed by Dottie Jeanne Dangerfield. Again, if you want to take part, please let Dottie Jeanne know so arrangements can be made for transportation (and timing).

We have no idea when people on those various tours will be returning to the hotel. But when you do get back there will be a display of historic radio magazines and newspapers spread out for you. You won't believe some of the stories about radio broadcasting from the 1920s as told in these old documents.

Saturday evening, after you have your dinner, there will be the annual meeting of the National Radio Club with reports on the State of the Club, changes we see coming, and a special announcement about the 2006 Convention. Ask questions about the club and hear answers from Club Board members and Editors.

The caper to the evening will be the annual Radio Club Auction! All kinds of valuable commodities (?) will be sold by our crack auctioneering staff, better known as the "Paul and Fred Show."

Sunday, September 4, 2005

Ah yes, the morning after another restful night's sleep should find you in the breakfast place before 9 o'clock so you'll be ready to play our first game of the weekend — "Shout The Answer" or, as some call it, "The Candy Quiz"!

Our Program Host will call out questions in the main meeting room all about AM radio stations we know and love. That will start around 9:00 or 9:15 ... and whoever calls out the right answers (or the best answer to some of the dumber questions) had better be a good catch because a small wrapped candy will be thrown at him/her. If you can't see the candies coming your way, that's okay too — we'll let them pile up at your feet.

Now, starting a little before 10 o'clock Sunday morning, we're hoping you can contribute some thoughts for the upcoming Travellog features on the DX Audio Service. Due to some timing problems, we have changed from a discussion of stations operating at 930 on the dial to a similar review of 940 stations. You'll see how this goes but be sure to join in.

Shortly after 10:00 AM, we get down to the serious issues of the morning — the Annual NRC Quiz. This year we've done things differently because, over the years, this annual quiz has been won by Frank Merrill more often than not, it seems. So this year we got Frank to make up the test — and that means he can't take it and win! As usual, the winner will be given a one-year membership in the NRC or the DX Audio Service.

There are more events going on today, so just turn the page for part two!
