Dear Ernest,

Glad to know WMBR is reaching the Cape. We are now a 200 watt station, a broadcast service of MIT with a staff made up of both MIT students and older community volunteers like myself. Known as WTBS until two years ago, we have existed in Cambridge for twenty years now, we are locally known as a trend setting station, being the first one to broadcast shows devoted entirely to progressive rock, new wave, disco and reggae. You did indeed catch my show, "The Crazy Quilt" of February 26, 1981, your account of the afternoon's programming was quite accurate and impressively detailed. Your account of my show is completely in line with my own logged account ~~of~~ for 1:20 p.m to 2:34 p.m. 2/26/81. Good work! I hope this is a fully satisfactory "verification".

Truly,

Dan Gewertz/chief announcer
