Dear Mr. Cooper:

Forgive the tardiness of this reply. I have been on vacation and have just returned to find your letter.

You indeed did have WPKX tuned-in on the night of June 17th. At the time we were in the midst of a promotion with Wendy's and Dan Carpenter is a part time announcer who was covering the over-night shift on that evening.

I find your letter gratifying in that WPKX is a Class A FM with an antenna at 675 feet above average terrain operating at an ERP of 1,100 watts. Your reception of the station says that it is the little engine that could.

Happy listening and thanks for your letter.

Sincerely yours,
