Dear Ernest,

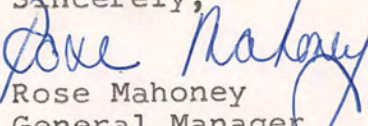

Thanks so much for your letter informing us of reception on Cape Cod. As a frequent visitor to the Cape myself (West Dennis), it was nice to know I could possibly pick up WRSU while there.

I'm very interested in the station you work for, as we, too, are non-commercial. Your show sounds very interesting, which is the beauty, I believe, of non-commercial radio-being able to do what is interesting, rather than simply what will sell! I am quite sure there is a recording of the Rutgers University Marching Band and will check into it for you.

You mention WRSU-AM and Public Relations Director, Roger Cohen. Roger is now a professor of Communication here at the University and still is quite involved with us in an advisory role.

You refer to 'gentlemen' several times in your letter. However, it seems we must have information about WRSU updated, as I am currently the General Manager and, although, in my position, I am often called a few names, 'gentleman' has never been one of them! No hard feelings, though, as it is my fault for not keeping such information current.

I will pass your letter along to Richard Skelly, as I'm sure he will be as pleased to read it as I was. Thank you so much for writing.

Sincerely,

Rose Mahoney
General Manager
