Dear Mr. Dabelstein:

I am sorry to have caused you the inconvenience of having to send in two reports. However, the chief engineer got so many replies to this special test that he asked me to help him answer them. In the meantime, he left our employ and he had some letters in his possession, one of which was probably yours, and since he left no forwarding address, I had no way of checking with him.

Enclosed please find our coverage map and I wish you much success in your future DXing.

Sincerely,

Jane C. Hoerner
Secretary
