Mr. Kermit Geary
Walnutport, Pennsylvania

Dear Mr. Geary:

Thank you for your most interesting letter reporting reception of WCNC on the morning of November 23. The report you submitted checks with our log.

We are using Western Electric equipment, 310B transmitter, 23B speech console, saltshaker microphones, and RCA turntables. The antenna is a Blaw-Knox, onehundred seventy-five foot vertical.

The transmitter of WCNC is located about one mile from downtown Elizabeth City on the outskirts of Disimal Swamp, and about twenty miles from the Atlantic seacoast. Elizabeth City has a population of approximately fifteen thousand, located in the extreme northeastern part of the state, about thirty miles from the Virginia line, fifty miles from Norfolk, Virginia, our nearest large town. Approximately seventy miles South of the City is located Roanoke Island, where the Lost Colony was founded and the first white settlement in America. It was here that Virginia Dare was born.

We again thank you for your interesting letter and offer an invitation to you to visit our transmitter and studios anytime you are in this vicinity.

Sincerely yours,

Nicholas V. Pieler
