

Thanks to You!

Station WPRC has made a careful checkup on your report of its program and we find your report entirely correct. We want to thank you for having written to us, as it is only through the kindness of listeners that we are enabled to ascertain into just what localities our transmission is being received.

Broadcasting, though highly expensive, is very interesting work. For a station of only 100 watts we were quite proud to get a letter from the State of California, reporting good transmission from WPRC.

Broadcasting will improve as the days come and go, but it is up to the listening public to encourage those who do it, particularly those stations which do not put on paid programs. Your report is, therefore, very much appreciated. We hope to have you listen to our programs in the future.

Very truly yours,
