February , 1952

Hi,

This is gonna look like kind of formal or lazy like, but it is about the only thing we can do to get an answer to all the responses to the many kind DX'ers that were listening the morning of January 18, 1952, from 1:30 a.m. till 3:00 a.m., MST.

To date I have counted 20 letters from those who heard us that morning.

Adding to the verification side of the whole thing, here are some of the things mentioned during the broadcast that morning:

Theme: National Emblem March; HFDW
Call letters: Now KCAP, formerly KMTV before the first of the year;
Temperature: Reported at 40 degrees above zero;
Some of the pop tunes played:
Five Foot Two, Eyes of Blue
Down Yonder
March Music (I Don't remember the title)
Waiting for the Robert E. Lee
Shoo, Shoo, Baby;
Talk about the DX'ers;
Helena's elevation;
More idle chatter mentioning the names of those present at the time of the broadcast, including Lee Dobler, Allan Nowotny, and myself, Dean Mack.

Signed off at 3:00 a.m. to the themesong of the DX'ers, the National Emblem March.

Hoping that this will serve as a verification for your DX records, and thanking all for the kind responses, I am, wishing you all the luck in the world on all your future DX pick-ups,

Dean Mack
