Dear Bill,

First off, please forgive the tardiness of this response to your letter dating back to January of this year.

The radio station you picked up at 890AM is indeed KLFF AM licensed to the city of Arroyo Grande, California. Our studios are located in San Luis Obispo and we're located almost exactly in the middle between San Francisco and Los Angeles on the Central California Coast. Our license allows us to broadcast at 5KW in the day and a reduced power of 1KW at night.

The reason for my tardy response is that when you wrote we had only been on the air about a month. Since then our sister station, KLFF-FM at 89.3 launched a new signal into Ventura County, California. We have been running like crazy because of the workload necessary to launch and maintain two new stations.

I hope this letter finds you well and that this response is what you had hoped for.
