

Columbus, Georgia
January 27, 1955

Dear Sir:

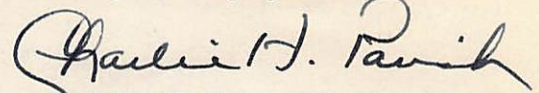

We were happy to know you picked up our signal during equipment checks. Your reception report checks with our station log.

WCLS began operations on January 19, and is daytime, independent, non-directional, and operates from sunrise till sunset with 1,000 watts of power.

Columbus is a town of approximately 85,000 population, located on the Georgia Alabama line, just across the river from the "famous" Phenix City, Alabama.

Thank you for your reception report. We were glad to know we were heard up your way.

Very truly yours,

CHARLIE H. PARISH,
Chief Engineer
