

RADIO STATION KBWL

STAR BROADCASTING CO., INC.

P. O. BOX 70
BLACKWELL, OKLAHOMA

September 21, 1954

Maurice W. Nittler
Box 94
Geneva, Nebraska

Dear Mr. Nittler

I would have answered your nice letter sooner, but we were in the process of moving the station's business office. We are a very small station, and at the present time we are doing all our broadcasting from the transmitter, with a small office downtown as soon as possible we will install a remote studio again here in our office.

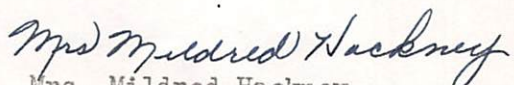

Now for your verification: yes, you did receive our program on September 14, 1954 and Fred Clark, Jr. (however he does not use the Junior when he is on the air) was the announcer. He was very pleased to know that you heard him. Fred is just a high school boy, and since he is busy with school, our Manager Mr. John Carrick, ask me to write and let you know how good it made us all feel here at KBWL to know that your received our broadcast.

I am a traitor to the cause and listen to Television most of the time when I am at home, one morning we heard the news from Green Bay, Wisconsin and we received a fairly good picture. Another morning we heard part of a program from Baltimore Maryland. WE received both of these on Channel 2.

Now for a little information about Blackwell. Blackwell has a population close to 10,000. We have the largest gas Zinc Smelter in the world here, also a glass plant and foundry. Wheat is the big crop here in this area. We are about 70 miles from Wichita, Kansas and a little over a hundred miles from Oklahoma City, Oklahoma.

Again let me thank you for the station for being so kind to let us know you heard KBWL, and hope to hear from you again.

Very truly yours,

Mrs. Mildred Hackney
Bookkeeper
