Dear Mr. Wesolowski:

Thank you for your very complete and accurate report of reception of KFNF on May 26th.

To answer your questions I will say that our transmitter, which is Collins, is located in the North edge of Shenandoah with studios at the same location. The tower is self-supporting and 240 feet high. I can offer no worthwhile suggestion in the matter of obtaining a verification from KXXX other than to possibly try again. While we are in common ownership with the other two stations, the general operation is entirely separate.

We were very pleased with the results obtained during our special broadcast for the National Radio Club early this year. I hope that you and your club continue to enjoy the DX-ing hobby for a long time to come.

Thank you again for writing to KFNF.

Yours truly,
RADIO STATION KFNF
